Merritt College

We change lives!

Merritt College opened its doors in 1953 and today remains the heart of a thriving, diverse community where students of all ages and backgrounds can obtain a quality education at a very affordable price. Whether you want to get an associate degree, transfer to a four-year college or university, update your job skills, find a new career, or take a class just for personal enrichment, Merritt College is the place to be!

“We Change Lives”

MERRITT - COLLEGE

Office of the President

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT JOHNSON

On behalf of the Merritt College faculty, professional staff, and administration, it is my great honor and privilege to recognize and commend the Merritt College Graduating Class of 2022! We join your family, friends, and loved ones in expressing our pride and admiration for the work you have done to achieve this amazing accomplishment. And that you did it under such challenging and unprecedented circumstances is even more impressive.

As you leave Merritt College and begin the next step of your journey, please know that you are prepared to contend with and surmount any and every obstacle placed in your path. With your knowledge, skills, and talents I know that you will meet the mark, and be the leaders that your community, this nation, and the world need you to be! So please take a moment to bask in your achievement and partake in some celebratory fun. You have earned it. But also remember that this is not the end of your journey. Great tasks and achievements still await you, so run headlong toward them and accomplish all that your mind conceives and your heart desires.

So once again I say Congratulations Merritt College Class of 2022! You did it!!!

COMMENCEMENT REGALIA

The colorful attire worn by the graduates, the faculty and officers of the college on the occasion of these Commencement Exercises has historic roots in medieval times. Dressed in cap and gown, the graduates and their professors form part of a long tradition that dates back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. The gown seems to be an adaptation of the robe of a friar or priest; the hood, of the monk's or friar's cowl; and the mortarboard cap of today, the end product of curious evolution, recalls the skull cap of days when tonsured heads needed protection against the drafts of medieval classrooms.

European institutions have always had great diversity in their specifications of academic dress and this has been a source of confusion. In contrast, American colleges and universities opted for a definite system that all might follow. A Commission met at Columbia University in 1895 and adopted a code of academic dress, which besides regulating the cut and style and materials of the gowns, prescribed the colors, which were to represent the different fields of learning.

The Gown. The three types of degrees each have a different style gown. Bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves, and are worn closed. Master's gowns have oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, with the base hanging down, and rear part of the oblong cut square while the front arc cuts away. These robes have fasteners so they can be worn open or closed. Doctoral gowns have bell-shaped sleeves, also designed with fasteners so it is worn closed or opened. The doctoral gowns also have velvet panels down the front and three bars of velvet on the sleeves.

The Gown

All three gowns are usually black. However, some institutions use the colors of the colleges and universities. The color and material of the panels and sleeve bars vary in order to indicate the field of learning in which the wearer's degree was granted; dark blue for Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.); light blue for Education (Ed.D.); white for Arts and Letters (D.Litt.); gold yellow for Science (D.Sc.); orange for Engineering (Ph.D.); purple for Law (LL., J.D., J.S.D., D.C.L.); green for Medicine (M.D.); scarlet for Theology (S.T.D., D.D.).

The Hood

Academic Hoods are black and made from the same fabric as the gown. Hoods vary in depending on the degree and may range from three feet to four feet. The doctoral hood is wider and is lined with college or university colors. They typically have one field color and one chevron color, though sometimes there are school specific variations. The edge of the hoods are velvet and in the color of the degree subject. The colors follow the same schedule indicated above for the panels of the doctor's gown – white for Arts, gold-yellow for Science, olive-drab for Business, salmon for Public Health and Hospital Services, sage-green for Health Systems Leadership, apricot for Nursing, peacock blue for Public Administration, rose for Social Science, and so forth.

A number of other items such as cords, stoles, or aiguillettes representing various academic achievements or other honors are also worn at the discretion of some degree-granting institutions.

The Cap

Headwear is an important component of cap-and gown, and the academic costume is not complete without it. The headwear will vary with the level of academic achievement and, to some extent, on the individual academic institution's specifications. The mortarboard material matches the gown and has become the universally accepted style in United States colleges and universities. Mortarboards have four sides, and typically have a tassel with a single button at the top, usually in the color of the degree-granting institution.

The exception—velvet—is reserved for the doctor's degree only, seen in the form of a four, six or eight multiple-sided tam. The tassel worn on the mortarboard or a tam seems to provide, by tradition, the greatest opportunity for latitude in American academic dress. It has been black, or represented the college's or university's colors, or the discipline. The tassel has also been used to indicate membership in national honor societies or other awards. There is at some colleges and universities a practice of moving the tassel from one side to the other upon graduating. For doctoral and masters students, the tassel commonly begins and remains on the left.

QUOTES FROM THE CLASS OF 2022!

Thank you so much for loving me and supporting me through my college years. I couldn't have done it without you, and I love you all so much! -Buthaina Abdo

It is all about your happiness. Choose a degree where you will find yourself happy everyday to work in that specific field, not just for the title. -Munirah Alatuali

I would like to say to our future graduates anything is possible when you striving . It may become difficult or dem a little overwhelming at times because of the obstacles can sometimes throw you . I would say be determined , work hard and and never give on your dreams to be who you desire . I give great thanks to all my Merritt College family. Ron Nelson , my counselor he's been a outstanding anchor , support and coach throughout my journey. -Katherine Ammons

"To my son and family, si se pudo!
¡Gracias por ser siempre mi fortaleza, mi motivación! (Daniel Habif) -Darlene Arevalo

Whether this is the end of your academic journey or a stepping stone, the best thing you can do is to show up for yourself everyday, be the best you can be and give yourself grace. - Zina Blackwood

I want to thank God for making this day come true. I thank my mother and family, church family, Mr. Adams, EOPS staff, Professor Hilary Altman, Mr. Ron Nelson, Ms. Tauheeda Anderson, and other staff supported me through this journey of success. To the class of 2022, enjoy the moment you work hard for and believe in the beauty of your dreams.
- Verna M.Brown

I want people to know that It's never too late to go after your passions. Always go for what you know and trust your gut. I want to send a special thank you to my friends, family, and support people who have helped guide me through my educational journey by supporting me with love, unconditional compassion, and constructive criticism. I would not have been able to do any of this without your love and support.
- Davon Marshaun Crawford

Sin perseverancia no hay triunfos!! El que de verdad quiere puede, vamos adelante ganador no te rindas y lograras lo que te prepongas en la vida!!
Agradezco con el corazón a mis dos hijas y esposo por el apoyo y paciencia incondicional y también a mis profesoras que sin ellas esto no sería posible.
- Brenda Gomez Sedano

I want to express my gratitude to the professors of the Landscape Architecture department. Their dedication and commitment to providing each student with current, relevant, and practical coursework is what makes this program so great and has earned it the reputation of being top notch. I am proud to be one of their graduates!
